The 7th Euro-Asia Zeolite Conference

Invitation Letter for Sponsors

1. Conference Introduction

Co-hosted by the Chinese Zeolite Association of the Chinese Chemical Society, Dalian Institute of Chemical Physics (Chinese Academy of Sciences), Fuzhou University, Jilin University and Laboratoire Catalyse & Spectrochimie, CNRS (France), the 7th Euro-Asia Zeolite Conference will be held in Fuzhou from January 17-20, 2027 (Website: http://www.eazc2027.com).

This conference is chaired by Academician Liu Zhongmin, Academician Yu Jihong, Professor Bao Xiaojun and Professor Valentin Valtchev from France. The conference theme is Zeolites for New Challenges and Opportunities. More than 300 experts and scholars from universities, research institutes and industries worldwide will attend. Participants will share cutting-edge research achievements and discuss the latest development trends focusing on synthesis, modification and characterization of zeolite-based porous materials (including zeolites, MOFs, COFs, hybrid materials, etc.), applications of zeolite materials in energy and environmental protection, as well as artificial intelligence-driven creation and application of zeolite-related materials.

This conference serves as an excellent opportunity for enterprises and suppliers at home and abroad to showcase products and technologies, conduct face-to-face communication with academia, and explore potential domestic and international clients.

The Conference Organizing Committee sincerely invites your organization to participate as a co-organizer. Multiple sponsorship packages are available for promoting your company, products and technologies. Industrial partners, publishing institutions and instrument & equipment manufacturers are warmly welcome. Exhibition space and technical product presentations can be arranged upon request to build a communication platform between enterprises and the academic community.

Conference Dates: January 17-20, 2027 (January 17 for on-site registration)

Venue: Sheraton Fuzhou Hotel, No.23 Puxiazhou Road, Cangshan District, Fuzhou, Fujian Province, China
